The greatest conflagration in the history of Glasgow swept the waterfront yesterday, doing damage estimated at $$2,500,000. Half a dozen ships, which were moored alongside the docks, caught fire, and several were burned to the water's edge.

The bride is a daughter of Mark Morton, a millionaire, a granddaughter of the late J. Stirling Morton, and a niece of the late Paul Morton, former Secreary of the Navy. VIRGINIA VS. WEST VIRGINIA

Latter Must Introduce Testimony to Prove Alleged Offsets in Case.

HEARING AUGUST 17.

Special Master Littlefield Will Take Evidence at the State Capitol in Richmond.

Richmond, June 19.—Testimony in the Virginia-West Virginia debt case will be taken at the State Capitol, in Richmond, on August 17, the burden of proof being on West Virginia. Attorney General John Garland Pollard returned from New York yesterday after attending the preliminary hearing held in the offices of Charles E. Littlefield, former membe, of Congress from Maine and now a practicing attorney in New York, named by the United States Supreme Court at Washington as a Master in Chancery in he original hearing of the case, his report having been the basis of the decision by the Supreme Court in favor of Virginia as regards the principal of the debt.

The case has been re-opened at the request of West Virginia, the point now before the Master in Chancery being the claim of West Virginia for certain offsets. The former proceedings established the amount of the State debt properly chargeable against West Virginia. West Virginia now claims that the proceeds of those bonds were used by the State in the purchase of railroad socks nad in other investments, in works of internal improvement, which stocks, it is claimed, were of actual vaue at the time of the separation of Virginia and West Virginia. West Virginia therefore, asks an accounting.

The hearing will be continued from day to day, the prospect being for the introduction of a large amount of testimony.

A Card to the Public.

We have received complimentary remarks from the many good citizens of Alexandria for not decorating the front of our store with unsightly banners, which spoils the appearance of the business street, when we opened the big sale now going on.

We do not believe n putting up great signs to make our house look like so many alleged second-class houses. But we do believe in putting up small signs in a legitimate way and mark prices of our goods down when we run a sale of this kind. Oftentimes imitators put up the signs but forget to make a downward revision of the prces.

We want to build our business reputation in Alexandria on honest methods and according to our motto of doing business. Like Abraham Lincoln said, "You can fool part of the people part of the time, but you cannot fool the people all of the time." We are in business to fool the people at NO time. For that reason we do not put out big banners. The prices of our goods speak for themselves. A customer who starts dealing with us will always be our customer. Our good merchandise and low prices will prove that we do not have to display big banners to spoil the beauty of King street.

It is no use to talk, as we are doing the business without the banner display and we further promise the residents of Alexandria that we will never decorate wth sale flags or banners. We ever will be ready to give good inducements of our stock of merchandse to friends and patrons We will advise them not to be attracted by banners, but look for good merchandise and low prices. You will be sure to get that at A. L. Cohen's leading clothing house, 418 King street.

Kindly take notice on page 4 of this issue of the Gazette and see the big advertisement of bargains to be secured at our store during the remaining days of the sale and where we offer such splendid values in men's, women's and children's wearing apparel.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Brakeman on Washington and Old Dominion Railroad Dies From Injuries.

Caught between the engine and cars of a Washington and Old Dominion Railway freight train at 2:30 o'clock this morning, Frank Frederick Schweickert a well-known young Alexandrian, who was employed as brakeman on the railway, received injuries that resulted in his death at the Alexandria Hospital at an early hour this morning. A portion of the coupler was driven through his body and the man suffered terrible agonies until he reached this city where his injuries were treated.

The accident occurred near Falls Church, on the Bluemont division, the train being en route to this city. None of the trainmen were witnesses to the accident, nor is it known how it occurred.

Schweickert has lived in Alexandria for several years, boarding with Mrs. Mary Pulman at 301 King street. He was 24 years old and unmarried. He was a member of the Alexandria Light Infantry.

MEDIATION UNCERTAIN.

Plan to Bring About Peace in Mexico Said to be About to Fail.

Niagara Falls, Ontario, June 19.—Failure of the mediation plan to insure peace in Mexico was believed almost a certainty today.

The American and Mexican delegates are irreconsilably divided on the personnel of the proposed provisional government.

The faint hope yet remaining is that the mediators themselves may be able to pick a Mexican for the Presidency agreeable to both factions—and this would involve at least a recession on the part of either the American or Mexican delegates.

The reserve with which the Mexicans here have suddenly surrounded themselves indicates their belief in the failure of mediation. The delegates no longer mingle with the crowds in the hotel lobbies. They stick close to the rooms.

The positive stand by the American representatives that a constitutionalist mus be named to head the Mexican government is met by the equally firm declaration by the Huertistas that the federal government in Mexico cannot acquiesce.

The mediation meetings may end today—unless there is a backing down by one or the other sides.

Washington, June 19.—Unless the Huertista commissioners at Niagara Falls recede, mediation is at an end. It is frankly stated here without qualification that the United States has given its last word.

Either Huerta retires voluntarily in favor of a provisional government dominated by the cosntitutionalist or the United States will openly aid the rebels. There will be no invasion by United States troops, but as soon as mediation publicly collapses, the embargo on arms from the north will be again lifted in favor of the constitutionalists.

There will be no discrimination against Huerta other than that Vera Cruz will continue to be held against him and he will have to purchase any munitions he needs abroad and get them in through some other port.

Mexican affairs were again a subjec of discussion at the Cabinet meeting. Secretary Bryan was still a believer that, at the last moment the Huertista envoys will recede from their position and accept a provisional president with strong constitutionalist leanings.

He bases this belief in the knowledge tha tthe A. B. C. mediators have men of their own choosing to suggest and among them some tha would be acceptable to Carranza, Villa and the other constitutionalist leaders. He thinks in the final analysis the Huertista representatives will be willing to accept pressure from the mediators and accept men of their choice rather than to permit the mediation plan to be abandoned and then have Huerta driven from power by constitutionalist guns.

Other members of he Cabinet were not so satiguine. They expect Huerta to stay in Mexico City and fight to the last against his foes, and fear that if this does result complications must arise that will draw the United States into the fighting against its will.

DAMAGE MACHINERY

I. W. W. Secretary Says Practice of Sabotage Is Common.

Paterson, N. J., June 19.—Edward Zurcher secretary and treasurer of the Industrial Workers of the World, expounded the beliefs of that organization before the Federal Industrial Commission, which yesterday held its last meeting in this city.

He said that the leaders of the 1913 strike among the Paterson silk workers had never counseled violence nor approved it. Most of the bombs set off during the disorder, he contended had been planted by detectives employed by millowners.

Zurcher admitted under questioning that sabotage was common in all industries.

"When a hand wants a day off and can't get it, he drops a screw driven into machinery," said the witness.

Zurcher evaded a direct answer when asked if he favored blowing up mills, and said there were other ways of disabling mills, such as putting emery powder in the oilcups of the machinery. He admitted that all workers in the silk industry practiced sabotage by putting machinery out of commission one way or another.

The strikers used the only method open to them to gain their point, said the witness.

INSPECTION OF ROUTE

Alexandrians and Washingtonians Make Trip Over Route in Automobiles.

Delegations from the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, the Washington Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade, and others interested in a modern boulevard from the capital city to Mount Vernon via Alexandria, made a trip over a portion of the proposed highway yesterday afternoon in automobiles. The Washingtonians left at 3 o'clock and came to this city via Arlington where preparations for their reception had been made. The party was entertained by George D. Hopkins at his home in north Washington street.

At a meeting in the rooms of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce before the start, a discussion of the boulevard brought forth the financial side of the project. It is said the completed work will cost $90,000 Of this sum, the Bureau of Roads has agreed to contribute half, provided the rest is raised by the projectors. Alexandria county has appropriated $25,000, leaving $20,000 to be raised by the trade bodies of Alexandria and Washington.

The road traversed was the section between Alexandria and the southeast corner of Arlington National Cemetery, which it is planned to extend to an eighteen-foot roadway. Highway Commissioner Wilson accompanied the party, pointing out the route and explaining topographical conditions, with the necessary improvements.

Digging for herbs near Huntington, W. Va., yesterday, Mrs. John Aly found the severed head of a man apparently middle-aged. She reported the find to the police who say they believe the discovery is evidence of a murder, which probably occurred a week ago. The head is believed to be that of a stranger, as no one has been reported missing here. A search is being made for the torso.

ENFORCING SANITATION

Police After Persons Maintaining Nuisances Upon their Premises.

As is the case every summer, the police are finding nuisances upon the premises recently occupied by certain persons, mostly colored. Notwithstanding the health laws lately adopted by the City Council, some persons are prone to neglect the requirements until the police invade their premises and cite them to appear before the Police Court.

Under the law, wells are to be kept in a sanitary condition by the owners or agents of property; boxes are to be kept in a proper condition by the occupants of houses.

Several were before the court this morning to answer the charge of leaving nuisances upon premises they had recently vacated. Upon being summoned most of the delinquents had left orders for the cleansing of the same, and they were dismissed.

Most of the cases which come before the court are of persons residing either on streets through which sewers run or which are in close proximity to the same.

After the first day of July, 1915,—one year hence—the law requires all houses on sewered streets or premises abutting on alleys where the same have been constructed to connect with them under a penalty.

Since the law was passed in 1912 many have made the connections, but many more have failed to do so.

AFTER CHICKEN THIEVES.

A resident of the southeastern section of the city appeared in Police Court this morning as complainant against a negress whom he charged with capturing a chicken belonging to him, and, after wringing its neck, throwing it into a barrel. A material witness was absent, and it was determined to continue he case until tomorrow.

The action of the first warder in having the woman arrested caused complaints to be made by several other persons residing in the same section of the city, who have been losing chickens recently.

ELK OFFERED FREE.

United States Would Have an Antlered Herd in Every State.

Richmond, June 19.—All that Virginia has to do is to call for fifty elk, and she can have them for the purpose of breeding big game in the State.

Such is the character of a letter received here from Howard Eaton, of Wolf, Wyo., who engages in the business of shipping and hunting big game in the wild and woolly West.

The letter was addressed to Governor Stuart, asking that it be presented to the lovers of game in Virginia, the sporting element, and that they get together and have a law enacted looking to the protection of the elk for some years, in order that they may be multiplied. Mr. Eaton says that the elk is among the hardest of big game, that they live and thrive where domestic cattle would starve.

The United States Government has allotted fifty elk to each State on condition that the charges for transportation be paid and that they be given protection for a while in order that they may become plentiful.

It is expected that the letter will be sent to the Virginia Game Protective Association for consideration and recommendation.

INDORSE TORRENS SYSTEM

Action Is Taken by Bankers After Sharp Debate.

Old Point Comfort, Va., June 19.—Delegates to the Virginia Bankers' Association convened in twenty-first annual sesson at the Chamberlin Hotel, yesterday differed sharply as to the merits of the Torrens system of land registration, given strong indorsement in the report of the committee on agricultural and financial development and education. The committee's report was adopted by unanimous vote after thirty minutes of debate.

The inauguration of an improved system of land registration was given a prominent place in the committee's report presented by Chairman V. Vaiden, of Farmville. Attorney George Bryan, of the Bankers' Association took the floor immediately after the readng of the report, indorsing in an ex tempore speech the land registration feature.

PLUNGES TO DEATH IN WELL.

Herrel Gough, Overcome by Gas and Fumes from Dynamite, Falls Thirty Feet.

Herrel Gough, twenty-six years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gough, of Nokesville, Prince William county, met a tragic and sudden death at his home a few days ago while employed in digging a well.

Young Gough and a helper had been engaged in this work for a few days, and after they had finished digging, fired several blasts in the hole, which had reached a depth of about thirty feet. On Saturday morning they returned and Mr. Gough was lowered into the well. After reaching the bottom he became sick and faint from the remaining fumes of the dynamite. Giving the signal to be pulled up, he unloaded the tub which he had filled with rocks and dirt and climbed in. When nearing the top of the well, he loosened his grip, fell over, and plunged to his death thirty feet below.

SMALL FRUIT OF OMNIBUS BILL.

The United States Court of Claims, to which was referred the bill to pay to the Old Goose Creek Church, near Markham, Fauquier county, Va., $500 for damages sustained at the hands of Federal troops during the Civil War, in a letter to the Senate finds that $100 should be paid by the government for damages.

A bill to pay $500 to the Old Goose Creek Church was introduced in Congress sometime ago and referred by the Senate to the Court of Claims for investigation and decision.

In the testimony before the court it was shown that during the Civil War the Federal troops took possession of the church and grounds and used them as a hospital, and also for camping purposes by General Gary's command. The church benches were used for fuel and the property otherwise damaged.

The court in its finding declares that the evidence fails to show to the satisfaction of the court whether the claimant was loyal or not loyal to the government through the war. In order to secure damages it is necessary to prove loyalty to the Union. It also declares that reasonable rental value, including damages in excess of ordinary wear and tear was $100.

It is quite probable the bill will now be passed by both houses, carrying $100 instead of $500, the sum asked for when it was introduced.

Since the close of the civil war every man who has represented this district in the U. S. House of Representatives has received as a legacy from his predecessor what is known as the "omnibus bill," in which claims are made by the trustees of nearly all the churches in this section of Virginia. Nearly every church in Alexandria has filed claims for damages, and notwithstanding the Court of Claims has reported favorably in most cases, the claims have failed to get through Congress

Alexandria houses of worship were considerably damaged during the war by soldiers who used them as barracks. In all such cases the claims have been proven, but two generations have appeared upon the stage of life they were filed, nad, so far as can be seen, others are to follow before any decided action is taken by Conress.

It is said that Frederick the Great and Napoleon never paid claims upon general principes. It looks as though Congress is animated by the same spirit.

HUSBANDS WHO DESERT WIVES.

The authorities of New York City have adopted a plan by which men who desert their wives and leave them and their offspring to the mercy of the cold world will be kept moving. It is purposed to obtain pictures of all such and send them to the police departments of every city in the United States.

In every place in the country women can be found battling with poverty because men who have promised before God and man to love and protect them have cruelly deserted them.

Some of such characters often appear in far away places and pass off as single men and frolic with other women, while their unlawful wives are engaged in keeping the wolf from their doors.

Many pathetic cases are reported of young women being compelled to leave their offspring at home at times when they need the tender care of mothers and to work ten, twelve or more hours daily.

A young Italian mother attracted attention in New York a few days ago. She is but 24 years old, yet is the mother of three children. Her husband suddenly vanished three months before the birth of her last child. She has no idea of his present whereabouts. Finding that she and her offspring were about to perish for proper nourishment, the frantic young woman attempted to sell the youngest child for a nominal sum to any woman who would guarantee to see that it was properly maintained.

The mills of the gods are said to grind slowly, but surely high heaven will, sooner or later, bring vengeance upon those who bring about such conditions.

NEGRO USES HIS SABRE ON MAJOR.

"Never trust a negro with a gun," was one of the wise sayings of George Washington. Probably Major Lanier, of Richmond, could suggest an amendment to the caution of the father of his country by adding the words "or a sword."

The major who is an attorney, was the victim of an attack with a sabre Thursday afternoon by a participant in the colored Pythian parade in the capital city. The attack occurred near the corner of Franklin and Shafer streets, and Major Lanier sustained a severe cut on the right hand, which he used to ward off a blow aimed at his head by the negro. Unfortunately the major was unable to identify his assailant. Just why he was attacked Major Lanier was unable to state. He was standing on the curb in front of his home viewing the procession, when he was jostled by a large, black negro, evidently an officer in the Pythians. He was rudely shoved aside, and, after attempting to resent the indignity, was struck with the sabre. The blow inflicted a deep cut across the palm of the hand.

D. D. D. Opens New Era in Cure of Skin Disease

Professor Budlong's case of eczema was known to almost every hospital and physician of reputation throughout the state of Connecticut. His letter is another interesting demonstration of what is being accomplished by the famous specific D. D. D. Prescription. It may be of interest to you to know that your life giving preparation, D. D. D. Prescription has been of incalculable value to me. I was covered with eczema from head to foot when I began using your remedies. I could get no relief, although I tried a thousand means. I applied but two bottles of the Prescription, a cure was effected in a very short time in less than one month."—Prof. C. J. Budlong, South Lyme, Conn.

Ask any druggist today for D. D. D. Prescription. He'll tell you it allays the itch instantly—and soon there are signs of cure.

We have handled the remedy for years and regard it as the specific for skin troubles of all kinds. Come in or ask us about D. D. D. Prescription, also about D. D. D. soap especially for tender skins.

We offer the first full size bottle on the guarantee that unless it stops the itch at once, it costs you not a cent.

FAVORS CHURCH UNITY

Wilson Writes Letter Expressing Sympathy with World Conference.

Philadelphia, June 19.—President Wilson, in a letter received yesterday by the Rev. Dr. William H. Roberts, stated clerk of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, expressed his sympathy with the movement for unity among all Christian churches. In his letter the President said:

My Dear Dr. Roberts: I have been gratified to learn by your letters of the 5th instant that a delegation representing the American churches will go to Europe next August in connection with the World Conference on Faith and Order.

It is especially pleasing that our churches will be represented by divines so eminent as Bishops Rhinelander and Anderson and the other gentlemen you mention. May I not ask you to be good enough to make known to them and through them to the World Conference my entire sympathy with the great object of the conference which looks to unity of all Christian churches. Sincerely yours,

WOODROW WILSON.

Dr. Roberts was a member of the first delegation which went to Europe in the interest of the proposed world conference and which visited non-Conformist churches in Great Britain and Ireland last January The second deputation expects to visit London, St. Petersburg, The Hague, Berlin, Rome and other places of interest to Lutherans, Catholics and Greek Orthodox church in the proposed conference.
